2021 - 2022
ANNUAL REPORT

Across the north of Nigeria, many families are living in constant fear of attacks led by non-state armed groups (Boko Haram). The ongoing threat of violence has seen thousands of people fleeing their homes in search of safety.

As well as this, a severe rainy season damaged thousands of shelters, leaving men, women and children already displaced by the conflict, extremely vulnerable.

We are working closely with our partner ACTED in Nigeria to support families across two camps, providing tarpaulins, rope, and tools.

It has really helped the condition of our shelter. We have new tarpaulin to cover our household, which will hopefully keep out the rain during the rainy season. I can stay in my house for longer periods of time compared to before I received the shelter kit, as it is now better covered.

Front cover: Extremist attacks, severe weather conditions and the impact of coronavirus in the Lake Chad Basin have resulted in a dire humanitarian crisis in the Far North region of Cameroon. The area now hosts more than 114,000 refugees as well as 320,000 internally displaced people. ShelterBox worked with trusted partner, IEDA Relief in the Far North region and carried out projects both on-camp (Minawao Camp) targeting refugees and off-camp, mainly targeting internally displaced people.

SHELTERBOX EXISTS BECAUSE NO ONE SHOULD BE WITHOUT SHELTER AFTER A DISASTER

Everyone deserves a place to call home. It is a human right and the first step towards recovery after disaster.

In 2021-22, thanks to our unstoppable supporters, tens of thousands of people across the globe were still able to discover all of the benefits that shelter brings. Together, we continued to share the power of home.

Shelter is so much more than just a roof. It's the foundation for life, families and communities. It is a place to feel safe after days or weeks of fear. It offers privacy, protection from harsh weather, a place to feel dignified. It's a space to heal from trauma.

In 2021-22, as two global challenges continued to influence every aspect of our work, the generosity of our supporters meant we could keep providing emergency shelter worldwide.

The coronavirus pandemic continued to cast a shadow over all of our lives, but we reached hundreds of thousands of people in spite of ongoing travel restrictions. And, as the impact of the climate crisis continued to grow, we stood side-by-side with those already on the frontline.

The Russian invasion of Ukraine led to the greatest movement of refugees since the Second World War. ShelterBox was quick to respond and continues to do so.

Due to this response occurring outside of the ShelterBox Trust reporting period, numbers of people helped in Ukraine and neighbouring countries will be accounted for in the 2022-23 Annual Report

CHAIR STATEMENT

Paul Roger

It has been a pleasure to have served my second year as Chair of this amazing organisation. As a humanitarian organisation specialising in providing shelter after disasters and conflict, we expect the unexpected. Yet even with our expectations and preparedness, the past few years have been extremely challenging. The continuance of a global pandemic; earthquakes; extreme weather events; and conflict have dominated.

A significant period of 2021-2022 saw the world remain under restrictions from the pandemic, as we slowly adapted to the 'new normal'. These restrictions continued to impact on our efficiency to respond to the need for aid and increased the cost of its delivery. That said, with assistance of our global partners, ShelterBox Operations has risen to the challenge and successfully adapted, continuing to get aid to those most in need.

In addition, we have continued to develop new partnerships to enhance our operations to do more and reach more. Particularly encouraging during the 2021-22 year has been the continued generosity of our donors. ShelterBox Australia has seen a return to the donation income trends it was experiencing pre-COVID. Indeed, in the 2021-22 year we exceeded the anticipated budget with an income of AUD1.2 million, whilst reducing overall operational expenses within Australia, maximising the percentage of donations going to ShelterBox Trust. I am optimistic that this trend will continue in the 2022-2023 year as the increasing awareness of our important work translates into increased income.

I am constantly impressed with the determination and resilience of the ShelterBox community. With highly professional staff, enthusiastic volunteers, a growing network of global partners, and the generosity of donors, the ShelterBox model has continued to adapt to support global need.

Climate change is playing an ever-growing role in extreme weather events and related disasters. Significant conflicts, including the war in Ukraine, have seen an increasing number of people in need of humanitarian assistance.

Adapting to changing demands has been at the forefront of ShelterBox's thinking. During the year, both ShelterBox Trust and ShelterBox Australia conducted a strategic review to ensure a proactive stance in preparedness. The result of these reviews means ShelterBox aims to do even more each time it responds to a disaster, including development of additional partnerships and the option of additional pre-positioning of aid supplies to facilitate more timely responses. From a fund-raising perspective, ShelterBox Australia will seek to develop additional partnerships and strategies to enhance its brand within the region and broaden its income base.

ShelterBox Australia will continue our key fundraising campaigns, including our very popular annual Trek 4 Shelter, and our annual Giving Day which raised over $160K in a single day this financial year. Work of this nature would not be possible without the dedication of our staff and volunteers.

I acknowledge the Board members who give their time to help govern the organisation and provide strategic guidance, the CEO and his staff who, as a small team, punch well above their weight, and our many volunteers who advocate on our behalf and help with our fundraising. A sincere thank you to you all.

Moving forward, I'm optimistic for both ShelterBox Australia and ShelterBox international. While I will be remaining a Director on the Board, this will be my last annual report as Chair. At the end of 2022 I will be stepping down to focus on increasing Rotary duties as I move toward being a Rotary District Governor in 2023-2024. I am confident ShelterBox Australia is in good hands and look forward to continuing to give my support where I can.

CEO STATEMENT

Mike Greenslade

2021-22 saw us make steady progress as the world slowly emerged from the global COVID-19 crisis. Although far from over, the world is learning to live with virus. Communities in developing countries, especially those affected by disaster and conflict remain especially vulnerable. We saw renewed activity from our volunteers and return to normal business for many Rotary Clubs. This, combined with the outpouring of support for the people of Ukraine, meant that we were able to smash our fundraising target, a global trend for all ShelterBox affiliates. Our Ukraine Appeal alone raised over $400,000.

Internationally, ShelterBox continued to meet the logistical challenges of working remotely in many cases but also managed to get 'boots on the ground' again after a two-year hiatus. ShelterBox Response Teams got back on the ground in August 2021 following another devastating earthquake in Haiti. In 2021, ShelterBox provided emergency shelter and supplies to 143,000 people, in 11 countries, through 17 responses. In the coming pages, you will read detailed reports on many of these deployments, none of which would have been possible without our generous supporters.

Held to coincide with World Human Rights Day on 10th December, our second annual Giving Day was a real highlight. Although we are yet to find a significant sponsor, some of our major donors and many Rotary Clubs contributed to our matched giving pool to ensure that donations made on the day were doubled. The result was an amazing $160,000! We hope this annual event will grow and encourage new supporters, as we promote shelter as a basic human right.

Our Trek 4 Shelter campaign continues to be a success, as we approach our target of $250,000. We held a highly successful Moonlight Trek in the Mt Kosciuszko National Park, a third Larapinta Trek and launched our first overseas trek for 5 years, in the majestic Southern Alps of New Zealand.

Looking ahead, we have some exciting fundraising treks planned. First up is our first international trek, in conjunction with ShelterBox USA in the magnificent Yosemite National Park. This will be followed by a trek in our own piece of World Heritage, Tasmania's glorious Tarkine Rainforest. We'll also be launching our Kokoda Trek to coincide with ANZAC Day in 2024. I need to start training for this one! These 'bucket list' destinations enable supporters to achieve some life goals whilst supporting disaster relief.

I would like to offer my sincere thanks to our supporters, volunteers, staff, and board members over the past 12 months. Together, you have made a real difference in people's lives. In the 2022-23 year, we will look to consolidate our gains and raise our public profile. We will rise to meet the challenges of the global financial crisis, driven by the effects of the pandemic, the war in Ukraine, and changing climate that is only going to make disasters more frequent and more intense. Regrettably, we are in for another busy year.

THANK YOU SO MUCH FOR YOUR KINDNESS,

Mike Greenslade

UKRAINE

The brutal Russian invasion of Ukraine has left millions of people with no safe place to call home. Innocent civilians are being killed, families and lives are being torn apart. Now, more than 12 months after the start of the war, over 15 million people need urgent humanitarian assistance.

ShelterBox's response in Ukraine started just days after the commencement of hostilities, when the scale of the need became apparent.

"Initially, we focussed on the provision of mattresses to help some of the thousands of people that were forced to flee their homes and seek refuge in collective centres, like schools and churches", said ShelterBox Australia CEO, Mike Greenslade. "Our response has evolved over time as the situation unfolded, it remains a very fluid response."

Dmytro and Victoria

Dmytro and Victoria are community leaders at a block of apartments about 20km outside of Kyiv. The top floor and roof were almost completely destroyed after two attacks in March.

'We had a simple life here before the invasion' Dmytro said. 'There were shops, beautiful nature, a kindergarten, and a school. We were a self-contained community' he added. Most of the people living in the apartments are young and moved here to raise a family. There were around 200 families here before the invasion"

Victoria said 'we knew from the beginning that the war was coming'. The nearby town saw heavy fighting. 'We could hear the guns and see the helicopters' she added. Some families here left straightaway but others stayed in the hope that it would only last a few days. The block of apartments was hit twice in March.

ShelterBox and partners, ReliedAid are the only organisations to have helped the community. Without the support they received they would have relied on their own money to fix things. 'This would have come at a huge cost, particularly at a time when many people are without work because of the war' Victoria said.

Irina

A spiral oak staircase was the heart of Irina's home. A feature that not only connected the two floors but held the story of years of her life dedicated to building her 'beautiful' home. Now the staircase is gone, along with the entire top floor and roof. Now, Irina can only joke about her treasured staircase that 'was the price of a small car'.

In the attractive suburban street where Irina lives, there are twenty-two houses, but when war broke out only three families had stayed behind, including Irina and her husband. She told ReliedAid, ShelterBox's partner in Ukraine, "we did not go anywhere, we have nowhere to go, we don't have a second home. I have six animals". Her 81-year-old Mother lived with them, luckily, she was in hospital in Kyiv at the time the house was hit.

On the day of the attack, the three occupied houses were the ones that were hit. The unoccupied houses remained intact. A missile strike damaged Irina's home, the resulting fire almost razed it to the ground. The second floor and roof were destroyed by the fire and the first floor was only saved because of the reinforced concrete floors.

Two of her animals died in the fire, the other four she saved and are staying with her at a friend's apartment.

Irina's phone connected her with ReliedAid through Ukrainian volunteer networks and resulted in her getting a delivery of tools and materials from ShelterBox. Although these items won't completely rebuild her home, they will help to make emergency repairs. Irina was quick to use the tarpaulin:

"If I don't cover what's left of the roof, it won't survive the winter, it will collapse. The main thing is to save what is left. It turned out very well to cover the house with the tarpaulin, because where there is a tarp now, we can already protect ourselves from the rain. This is great! Thank you!"

ShelterBox Australia CEO Mike Greenslade concluded, "ShelterBox continues to work in Ukraine, giving people thermal blankets, clothing, and emergency repair kits. These items will help people fix damaged roofs, seal windows and doors, keep the heat in and make homes watertight. As winter bites, the need continues to grow. People living in damaged buildings with little or no heating are facing temperatures as low as -15°C. The time to act is now."

BURKINA FASO

Over 1.6 million people in Burkina Faso have been forced from their homes since 2015 by militant groups. At the same time, the country has experienced prolonged droughts interspersed with extreme rainfall. Inevitably, it's often the people who have fled conflict and violence who are hardest hit, as their temporary shelters struggle to withstand the severe weather.

We began working in the country in 2020, and in 2021-22 significantly scaled up our response as the number of people without a safe place to live just kept growing. Thanks to our supporters, we were able to provide shelter support for families who had recently been forced to flee, as well as working with people whose existing shelters were damaged by heavy rain and strong winds.

SYRIA

March 2021 marked a tragic milestone in Syria – the tenth anniversary of the country’s devastating conflict.

We’ve been supporting families in the country since 2012, and this long-term presence helped us respond fast when over 22,000 people who had previously been displaced by the conflict lost their homes to seasonal flooding last year.

WE’VE SUPPORTED OVER

PEOPLE AFFECTED BY THE WAR IN SYRIA THANKS TO PEOPLE LIKE YOU.

Our focus, together with our partners Bahar Organisation and ReliefAid, was on distributing tarpaulins and other shelter materials that could help people weatherproof and repair their shelters. We also provided mattresses, blankets and clothes to keep people warm during the harsh Syrian winter, along with masks, washbasins and soap as we worked to help prevent the spread of the coronavirus.

Additionally we trialled a system that uses sand, gravel and concrete blocks to create a tent base so families can protect themselves and their belongings from standing water and floods. We constantly question how we can work more effectively in emergencies, and we are now analysing the impact of this trial. With your support, we will continue to stand alongside families and communities whose lives are overwhelmed by this devastating conflict.

KHALED'S STORY

Khaled was a schoolteacher before Syria's civil war transformed life in the country. Back then, he says, his family had everything they needed. But when heavy bombing hit his community, they fled, carrying only clothes and a few treasured possessions.

Khaled and his family now live in a displacement camp. In early 2021, storms swept through the area and their tent and belongings were damaged by floodwaters. Thanks to our supporters, we worked with our partner ReliefAid to distribute carpets, mattresses and blankets to the people in the camp. As a result, Khaled's home felt more like a home once again.

Thank you for helping after the flood. The help was good,” he says. “For example, the mattresses we had previously were damaged by the flood; the carpets you provided were good. The tarpaulin that we had before had ruptured and now we have new tarpaulin to cover the tent and protect it from the rain.

— Khaled, Syria

Climate change is not an issue for tomorrow. Throughout 2021-22, we saw its impact every day.

Through our work across the globe, we see how the climate crisis is already leading to more extreme weather. We see how families are losing their homes to tropical storms, droughts and floods that ravage crops, livestock and water supplies. We see how vulnerable families are forced to leave their homes, either because those homes are destroyed or because they need to leave in search of food, water or work.

We have seen the reality of the climate crisis for years. It is a humanitarian crisis – and in 2021 we continued to provide tangible, practical support for families on the frontline.

Through our emergency aid, we give power back to people immediately after disasters – providing shelter equipment, household essentials and training so they can start to rebuild.

We are also adapting our aid to reflect the new challenges the climate crisis presents. For example, we recently began using a water filter – invented by a Rotary International member – that can treat up to 200,000 litres of unsafe water. In a world of increased water shortages, it's the kind of innovation that will make a vital difference.

We are more focused than ever on prepositioning our aid in strategic hotspots around the world too, each one stocked with the items most likely to be needed in that region. By planning ahead in this way, we can be ready to stand alongside the people impacted by the climate crisis – even as our weather becomes more extreme and less predictable.

We are taking action to reduce our own carbon footprint, for example by prepositioning our aid, by setting up ShelterBox Operations Philippines to make our work in the country more efficient, and by getting non-essential single use plastics out of our supply chains. As the climate crisis makes life even tougher for vulnerable communities – who have usually done the least to cause this crisis – we are determined to respond.

If extreme weather events keep increasing at current rates, we could lose 167 million homes by 2040.

In 2020, 30 million people were displaced by climate disasters like floods and tropical storms.

The average number of category 4 and 5 hurricanes has doubled in the last 35 years.

SAGARIKA'S STORY

For 25 years, Sagarika and her family had lived in their cherished home in West Bengal, India. It had always withstood the storms that frequently hit the region. But Cyclone Amphan in 2020 was different. Its devastating force – with winds reaching up to 270km/hr – destroyed 1.7 million homes in India. Sagarika's was among them. Thanks to our supporters, we supported Sagarika and her family with shelter kit and household essentials – at a time when the local climate is changing before their eyes.

Now it is raining more than before and it is hotter than before during the summer,” Sagarika says. “What is supposed to occur in the month of Bhadra
(August to September) is now
happening in the month of Ashwin (September to October) and things from Ashwin are happening in the month of Shraban (July to August).*

How we created a high performing organisation in 2021-22

---

We know we will only be able to offer the best possible support to families after disasters if we keep learning, listening and improving. So, even as we adapted to an evolving global situation in 2021-22, we never lost sight of the need to keep getting better.

During the year we took the opportunity to create a wider people team, bringing together colleagues who specialise in learning and development, human resources, safeguarding, volunteering, and equality, diversity and inclusion. This has allowed us to take a more joined-up, strategic approach to supporting our employees and volunteers.

We also transformed our operations team in 2021-22. It's now known as the International Programmes department, and we hope shifting to a more programmatic approach will lead to new funding opportunities and increase our ability to support more people year on year.

We reviewed our strategy, mission, vision and values in 2021-22 too, and our work in 2022-23 and beyond will be guided by everything we learned during this process.

At a time that continued to be uncertain in many ways, we took a range of measures to support staff wellbeing and stop people feeling overwhelmed. This included offering mental health first aid training, giving parents and carers additional paid time off, creating a range of online wellbeing resources, launching 'protected hours' free from meetings and setting up informal online sessions for people to connect and chat.

As we write this review, the challenges of coronavirus are ongoing. Whatever the future holds, we are committed to giving our staff and volunteers the support they need to stay well, thrive and make the biggest possible difference to communities after disasters.

Equality, diversity and inclusion

As well as having a responsibility to make the best decisions for the people we support by listening carefully to their needs, we also have a responsibility to put our values into practice for our staff, volunteers and partners.

With this in mind and looking to create a roadmap for the future, in 2021-22 we invested in our first EDI specialist role. The role's focus is to implement the recommendations from the 2020 external audit of our equality, diversity and inclusion practices.

Equality means providing equal rights and opportunities to every member of staff and volunteer. It means supporting everyone to make the most of their talents and lives, while respecting that their needs may be met in different ways.

Diversity means understanding, recognising, valuing and nurturing differences – both among individuals and groups – within our staff and volunteers.

Inclusion means ensuring all members of staff and volunteers feel welcomed and accepted, with their voices and opinions actively recognised.

As a result of creating the new EDI role, and by focusing on EDI in everything we do, we will continue to work harder than ever to make ShelterBox a place where everyone is welcomed, appreciated and supported to thrive.

Core Humanitarian Standards

We're committed to meeting Core Humanitarian Standards to improve the quality and effectiveness of our disaster assistance. We're currently taking action in response to a recent security audit, and we're introducing improved data management systems to inform our decision making and ensure our information becomes more consistent and easier to access.

Safeguarding

We recognise that safeguarding is a defining challenge for our sector and are determined to lead by example. In 2021-22, we built on the recent progress we have made in this area by creating our first specific safeguarding role.

Since 2019, we have undertaken two independent reviews of our safeguarding procedures. These found that we are fully committed to safeguarding and have the budget and leadership in place to ensure our staff, volunteers and partners – as well as the families we support – are kept safe.

As a result of creating the new safeguarding role, we now expect to commission a further safeguarding review in 2022-23, as we strive to keep learning and stay at the forefront of good practice in the sector.

EXCERPT FROM THE SHELTERBOX TRUST ANNUAL REPORT

How we extended our reach and fundraising potential using our strategic partnerships

Once again in 2021-22, our partnerships made it possible for us to support more people in more places in more ways. We can't overstate our gratitude for the impact our partners have on our work.

Our partnership with Rotary International supports our disaster responses in all kinds of ways. By linking with Rotary partners worldwide, we can get aid into countries more easily – which has meant more than ever in a time of global travel restrictions and shipping container shortages. We can identify the communities most in need of support more easily too. And many Rotary members are part of our volunteer teams, having a direct impact on the ground whenever we are able to respond in person.

In Haiti in 2021, for example, the Rotary Club of Les Cayes gave us the latest updates and helped us understand the local context before we arrived in the country. Members also helped our teams find accommodation, making it easier for us to begin supporting families as soon as we arrived.

Our partnership with Habitat for Humanity Haiti was also crucial. Staff linked us with the most vulnerable communities so we could immediately listen to people's experiences and find out what was needed most. Together we provided shelter kits, solar lights, tarpaulins and more.

In Honduras, meanwhile, partnership was also fundamental to our progress as we worked to help communities recover from Hurricane Iota and Hurricane Eta. These two storms hit just a week apart in late 2020 and our response work continued into 2021-22.

Coronavirus restrictions meant we were unable to deploy a team to Honduras. Instead, we joined forces with Rotary Club of San Pedro Sula, Hábitat para la Humanidad Honduras and Habitat for Humanity International to support families who were able to return to their homes once the hurricanes had passed. Together we distributed shelter kits, tarpaulins, tools, training and household essentials to over 3,200 families.

It was a clear example of the power of partnership. ShelterBox provided aid items from our Panama warehouse, organised international logistics and delivered shelter training. Our Rotary and Habitat for Humanity partners used their local knowledge and connections to identify where we could make the biggest difference, unloaded shipping containers, distributed aid items (including travelling to remote communities using barges and canoes), passed on our shelter training to communities and monitored our impact in the region.

As Alex Ulloa from The Rotary Club of San Pedro Sula explained: "Every party was responsible for their role in the partnership, so each was able to focus on the critical aspects of their part of the project. Overall these aspects led to lower costs and faster transit time, and therefore the families receiving the aid were benefitted at a faster rate."

This way of working has been central to our impact for two decades, and we were delighted to be able to celebrate our links with Rotary International in a range of ways in 2021-22. Our CEO Sanj Srikanthan was honoured to speak at Rotary's International Convention, and both Shekhar Mehta, Rotary International's President, and Jennifer Jones, President Elect, were kind enough to speak at our own International Fundraising Conference via video link.

At the same event, we honoured the incredible contributions of Clements Witt, who has run ShelterBox Germany for 16 years, and Karsten Thuen, who has been at the helm of ShelterBox Denmark for a decade. Both discovered ShelterBox through their connections with Rotary. And as Rotary in Denmark marked its 100th anniversary, ShelterBox staff from the UK travelled to join in the celebrations.

Looking to the future, increasing our commitment to partnership is one of the central objectives of our new strategy. As the impacts of the climate crisis continue to grow and many more people are forced from their homes, we must increase the scale of our work – and joining with organisations that share our determination and ambition will be right at the heart of this.

Even families whose homes were still standing were choosing to sleep outside for fear their damaged homes could still cave in.

— Jean Frenel Tham,
National Director of Habitat Haiti.

SHELTERBOX THANKYOU VOLUNTEERS

Thank you to our volunteers. We couldn't do what we do without the amazing support of our partners and incredible volunteers who go above and beyond to help families who have lost so much.

Our volunteers share our vision for a world where no family is without shelter after disaster. Our volunteers support us in making this a reality. Their support comes in many forms, including fundraising, volunteering and helping deliver our aid to the people who need it most. Whatever skills, knowledge or spare time you have, you can play a vital part in this process. All we need is your passion. Interested in improving the lives of displaced families? ## JOHANNA'S STORY

Sydney-sider Johanna Johns calls Australia home after migrating from Holland when she was young and then returning to Europe in her thirties to start her own business.

After nearly a decade in London, Johanna returned to Australia and found herself employed in the weight loss industry, gaining skills and experience that resulted in becoming a qualified weight loss consultant.

During this time, Johanna joined her local Rotary Club of Beecroft and soon after, she volunteered to join ShelterBox as an Ambassador. Her sales and marketing experience, coupled with her determination and passion, made it easy for her to be connect with clubs around the area and secure presentations for ShelterBox.

Johanna has a critical role in creating awareness and fundraising at ShelterBox. She has been Fundraiser of the Year in 2019 and 2021, and received a Volunteer Excellence Award in 2022. Johanna goes above and beyond to promote ShelterBox – raising funds by sky diving for ShelterBox, running the City2Surf, trekking through the Himalayas in Nepal while raising over $7000, and representing ShelterBox on the Tassie Trek, receiving $5000 in donations.

Johanna is an engaging public speaker and arranges presentations at schools and Rotary Clubs, showcases ShelterBox at events and shopping centres, and shares ShelterBox news across her social media channels.

Johanna is an outstanding ambassador for ShelterBox and a true asset to the team. During her first ShelterBox trek in Nepal, Johanna discovered that through the difficult weather, harsh conditions and long days of hiking, she uncovered what was important to her and found her purpose.

'I have ended up with a passion for ShelterBox Australia. I have never taken the time to add up how much I have raised for ShelterBox but I have had some very proud moments in doing so.

While volunteering and fundraising, what I think about most of all is the lives of people and families that my time is making a little better and more comfortable during times of crisis.'

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

ROBERT'S STORY

'I was impressed by ShelterBox when first heard about it about 12 years ago. I am inspired by the volunteers who are working away quietly for ShelterBox, and have been for years, such as Alan Shepherd and the Rotary Club of Moruya, who have been putting a tent up outside the local market to collect donations for many years; Garth Perkin from Coolamon Rotary who at age 87 is walking the Larapinta Trail to raise money for ShelterBox; and the team at Cooma who have inspired primary students to also raise money for ShelterBox.'

Born in Brisbane, Robert is the proud father of 4 girls, 7 grandchildren and currently lives in the central west of NSW, however soon to move to the south coast of NSW.

After retiring from a career in the Department of Education, Robert became a school Principal and bought two newsagents. Twelve years ago, he bought himself a camera and a long lens and his passion for bird photography (twitching) has taken him on travels across Australia. One adventure saw Robert photographing birds in the mangroves at Cape Leveque, Western Australia, with large crocodiles in amongst the mangroves!

In-between twitching, Robert is the President of the Parkes Rotary Club and Area Coordinator for ShelterBox. During his time as President of Parkes Rotary Club he has achieved great things – reviving a club that wasn't expected to exist in five years' time, creating a YouTube channel viewed over 10,000 times, and securing tens of thousands of dollars in grants. Roberts achievements have seen him awarded a District Award for Communication and Public Image, Area Rotarian of the Year and District Rotarian of the Year.

At ShelterBox, Robert has spearheaded some innovative fundraising activities. He and his wife Judy slept out by the river near Forbes (NSW) for the Off the Grid challenge, raising over $2600. His local real estate agency donating $100 for every goal scored by the local footy team.

Robert also set up a District ShelterBox Facebook page to promote all things ShelterBox to its members. His $5 Page on Facebook allows anyone to promote their cause and encourages members to donate a small amount each fortnight ($5 per fortnight goes a long way when lots get involved).

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

AREA COORDINATORS

Share ShelterBox's message with Rotary Clubs and across your District.

AMBASSADORS

Engage and activate across the community – fundraising, awareness and action.

ADVOCATE

Use your voice to amplify ShelterBox's message.

FUNDRAISER

Organise a fundraiser (marathons, cocktail parties, school events and more), and make a difference.

PEITA'S STORY

Peita is one of those rare people that can put her hand to anything at ShelterBox - from Response Team member, to public speaker, fundraiser and trekker! As the 2020 Fundraising of the Year, Peita is a remarkable and dedicated fundraiser and has collected donations through Shine for ShelterBox dinners, community displays, joining the once-in-a-lifetime Larapinta Trek and raising over $63,000 with her fellow trekkers, presentations at schools and workplaces as an Ambassador, her acapella singing group and more!

As a former ShelterBox Response Team member, Peita deployed to flood-hit Malawi in 2014 and hurricanes in Haiti in 2016, delivering much-needed aid in person to affected communities.

Peita loves being on, near, or by the water, which is lucky as she lives on the NSW Central Coast. She's passionate about all sorts of music and is part of the Coastal a Capella singing group - a fun, energetic female acapella choir who love to rehearse and perform. Peita also loves being in nature, adores her friends and family, and occasionally works part time as a teacher.

Her happiest memories involve spending time with family and friends and she notes that the most influential people in her life are her family members. Peita is ever-optimistic and says that the evidence of goodwill and connection globally gives her hope for the future.

Peita says that it feels good to be positive and take action, rather than being an armchair critic and she does this at ShelterBox so well - raising awareness about the power of disaster relief and raising valuable funds to deliver aid.

One of my favourite ShelterBox memories is of fundraising for the 2019 Larapinta Trek 4 Shelter.

'I did a variety of activities to raise the money; a memorable one was the gold coin donation at St Peter's Catholic College where I work part-time.

I presented talks about our charity to each year level. The students, teachers and staff were very generous, donating $1200. I became quite emotional when a delightful student quietly handed me $100 note; his mother is Filipina and her family and community had been assisted by ShelterBox after a recent cyclone in the Philippines.'

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF THE ACCOUNTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30TH JUNE 2022

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Shelterbox Australia is a Company Limited by Guarantee and incorporated and domiciled in Australia.

Shelterbox Australia is a not-for-profit entity for the purpose of preparing the financial report.

BASIS OF PREPARATION

Shelterbox Australia financial report is a general purpose financial report that has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards - Simplified Disclosures. This includes compliance with the recognition and measurement requirements of all Australian Accounting Standards, Interpretations and other authoritative pronouncements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board and the disclosure requirements of AASB 1060 General Purpose Financial Statements - Simplified Disclosures for Not-for-Profit Tier 2 Entities.

This is the first financial report of the Club prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards - Simplified Disclosures. The prior year's financial report was prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards - Simplified Disclosures. The transition from the previous financial reporting framework to Australian Accounting Standards - Simplified Disclosures has not affected Shelterbox Australia's reported financial position, financial performance, and cash flows.

Australian Accounting Standards set out accounting policies that the AASB has concluded would result in financial statements containing relevant and reliable information about transactions, events and conditions. Material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are presented below and have been consistently applied unless stated otherwise.

The financial statements, except for the cash flow information, have been prepared on an accrual basis and are based on historical costs, modified, where applicable, by the measurement at fair value of selected non-current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities. The amounts presented in the financial statements have been rounded to the nearest dollar.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Revenue Recognition

Grant Revenues

Grant revenue, donations and bequests are recognised as revenue when received.

Interest Revenue

Interest Revenue is recognised as it accrues using the effective interest rate method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument. All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST).

b) Property, Plant & Equipment

Each class of property, plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair value, less, where applicable, accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

Plant and equipment are measured on the cost basis less depreciation and any impairment losses. The carrying amount of plant and equipment is reviewed annually by directors to ensure it is not in excess of the recoverable amount from these assets. The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of the expected net cash flows that will be received from the asset's employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have been discounted to their present values in determining recoverable amounts. Plant and equipment that have been contributed at no cost, or for nominal cost are valued and recognised at the fair value of the asset at the date it is acquired.

c) Depreciation and Impairment

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of all fixed assets including buildings and capitalised lease assets, but excluding freehold land, is depreciated on a straight-line basis over the asset's useful life to the entity commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use. Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements.

The depreciation rates used for each class of depreciable assets are:

Class of fixed asset	Depreciation Rate	Method
Plant and Equipment	25% to 33½%	Diminishing Value
Motor Vehicle	20%	Straight Line

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount. These gains or losses are recognised immediately in profit or loss. When revalued assets are sold, amounts included in the revaluation surplus relating to that asset are transferred to retained earnings.

Impairment of Assets

At the end of each reporting period, the entity reviews the carrying values of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell value in use, is compared to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Where the future economic benefits of the assets are not primarily dependent upon the asset's ability to generate net cash inflows and when the entity would, if deprived of the asset replace its remaining future economic benefits, value in use is determined as the depreciated replacement cost of an asset.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of a class of asset, the entity estimated the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

Where an impairment loss on a revalued asset is identified, this is debited against the revaluation surplus in respect of the same class of asset to the extent that the impairment loss does not exceed the amount in the revaluation surplus for that same class of asset.

NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

d) Employee Entitlements

Provision is made for the company's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to the end of the reporting period. Employee benefits that are expected to be settled within one year have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled. Employee benefits payable later than one year have been measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits. In determining the liability, consideration is given to employee wage increases and the probability that the employee may not satisfy vesting requirements. Those cash outflows are discounted using market yields on national government bonds with terms to maturity that match the expected timing of cash flows attributed to employee benefits.

Contributions are made by the entity to an employee superannuation fund and are charged as expenses when incurred.

e) Cash and Cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at-call with banks, other short term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within short-term borrowing in current liabilities on the statement of financial position.

f) Accounts Receivable and Other Debtors

Accounts receivable and other debtors include amounts due from donors and any outstanding grant receipts. Receivables expected to be collected within 12 months of the end of the reporting period are classified as current assets. All other receivables are classified as non-current assets.

g) Goods and Services Tax

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office. In these circumstances, the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense.

Receivables and payables in the Statement of Financial Position are shown inclusive of GST.

The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the Australian Taxation Office is included in other receivables or payables in the statement of financial position.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to, the Australian Taxation Office are presented as operating cash flows included in receipts from customers or payments to suppliers.

h) Income Tax

No provision for income tax has been raised as the entity is exempt from income tax under Div. 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

i) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the entity has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probably that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured. Provisions recognised to represent the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.
